Introduction to the Liturgy of the Day

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

Today we celebrate Jesus Christ as king over the entire world, but not the kind of king that we think of when we think of kings throughout history. Christ's kingship is everlasting. He rules over a kingdom that is both among us and beyond us. Moreover, as today's scripture emphasizes, he rules his people as a shepherd tends his sheep, guiding us, rescuing us, comforting us, and choosing us to remain with him in the kingdom. He is our king and we are his flock.

Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

Throughout scripture, God is portrayed as a shepherd and people are portrayed as a flock. Ezekiel, prophesying during the exile, assures the scattered sheep of Israel that God would shepherd them with love and care. The psalmist sings out that the shepherd brings goodness and kindness to us, ensuring we are free from want. In the Gospel, Jesus—the Good Shepherd—separates the sheep from the goats by judging how they treated those most in need. May today's readings reassure us of God's comfort and challenge us to see Christ in the least of our brothers and sisters.

The portrayal of God as a shepherd goes back a long way. God directed Moses to lead the Chosen People from captivity to the promised land as a shepherd would lead their flock out of danger and into a verdant pasture. The psalmist sings of God as a generous shepherd who provides us with all we need. During the Babylonian exile, Ezekiel portrays God as a merciful shepherd who gathers all the scattered sheep, rescuing the lost, binding their wounds, and giving them rest. Finally, Jesus calls himself the Good Shepherd, telling them that he will lay down his life for his sheep.

Question of the Week

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

How have I failed recently to see Christ in those I'd rather not look at? What will bring me to see "these least ones" as Christ does?

Introduction to the Liturgy of the Day

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

Advent is the time of year when we prepare for Jesus' birth, God's incarnation that occurred just over two thousand years ago. But today's Gospel reminds us that this is not Christ's only coming we should prepare ourselves for. Sometime, on a day we cannot foresee, the Lord will return to judge the living and the dead. "Watch," Jesus encourages his disciples, for we must always be ready to receive him. Finally, we also prepare for his coming into our hearts at any time - at many times - throughout our lives, often when we least expect. Now and always, let our hearts prepare him room!

Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

Isaiah sets the tone for the start of Advent and the coming of Christ into the world when he tells God, "Would that you might meet us doing right." We are a sinful people, he admits, but we want to show how we can reflect God's goodness. Jesus warns his disciples to be watchful because no one will know when he will come again. Paul assures the Corinthians that God will keep us faithful until the day Christ returns. As we listen, let us consider how the Lord may meet us doing right.

Even as Isaiah pleads to God to come down to earth, he laments the sinfulness of the world. Not even he is exempt: "all of us have become like unclean people" (Isaiah 64:5). The word unclean may remind us of lepers in ancient times, who shouted that word to warn others that they were approaching. We know what Jesus did for lepers. He healed them, he restored them to the community, he made them clean. As we are all sinners, we are all unclean as well. Therefore, we shout, "Come, Lord Jesus!" Come and make us clean!

Question of the Week

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

Over these next four weeks, how will I remain alert for Jesus' coming into my life?

YEAR-END CONTRIBUTIONS: With the end of the year fast approaching, you are reminded that your 2026 tithes need to be in the collection basket by the weekend of December 26/27 to get posted for the current year. If mailing your donation, it's the postmark that matters when determining whether a donation can still count in 2026. All contributions postmarked by December 31 quality as a contribution for 2026. The check date does not matter.

2026 Project Emmanuel!

The Parish Pastoral Council voted that for this year's Project Emmanuel (Advent project), we assist both the area Food Pantry and Regan Ausdemore's Personal Hygiene Closet.

Here is how you can help:

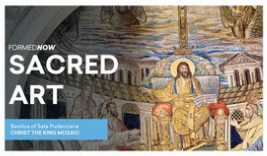

- Place monetary donations in the box on the donation table at the front of church marked: "2026 Project Emmanuel" or mail your donation directly to the parish office at P.O. Box 127, Neola IA 51559. Please make all checks payable to St. Patrick's Church. All monetary donations will be split evenly between the two organizations unless otherwise noted.
- Food Pantry or Hygiene Closet donations can be placed on the donation table at the front of church.

Donations will be collected from the first weekend of Advent (November 28/29) through Christmas Day (December 25).

Sacred Art: Christ the King

Sit down with Dr. Ben Akers and Taylor Kemp as they explore Catholic theology through the lens of Sacred Art. In this episode, they discuss the Solemnity of Jesus Christ, King of the Universe.

The Faithful Departed | Eternal Rest | Episode 4

What is left for the living to do after someone dies? In this session, we talk about the final ways in which those still living on earth care for the body and soul of the dead. We discuss the work that remains for the living to do as we grieve for the deceased and as we turn to the work of preparing for our own death, and the hope in which we live and die as Christians.

How to Advent | Episode 4

In this episode, we explore the incarnational meaning of the nativity set, traditions to follow within your own family, and how we're not only preparing for the birth of Christ that happened 2000 years ago – but the present reality that Christ will one day come again for us. Are you ready?
